R

DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is responsive to the amendment filed on 6/08/05. No claims were added, amended, or canceled. Claims 1-3 are presented for examination.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments, filed with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1-3 have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Itakura et al (An Audio Response Unit Based on Partial Autocorrelation) further in view of Kim (USPN: 6594363).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Itakura et al (An Audio Response Unit Based on Partial Autocorrelation) further in view of Kim (USPN: 6594363).

As to claim 1, Itakura teaches a method for detecting whether or not a microphone is connected to a real-time audio communication system of a computer comprising:

recording an audio sample through the real-time audio communication system;(792;793)

filtering a component out of the audio sample; (792;793)

determining values of auto-correlation coefficients of the filtered audio sample;

comparing the values of the auto-correlation coefficients of the filtered audio sample with predetermined values; (792;793)

Itakura does not explicitly indicate determining whether a microphone is properly connected to the real-time audio communication system based on the comparison of the values of the auto-correlation function coefficients with the predetermined values; and determining whether the microphone is not properly connected to the real-time audio communication system based on the comparison of the values of the auto-correlation function coefficients with the predetermined values.

Kim teaches determining whether a microphone is properly connected to the real-time audio communication system based on the comparison of the values of the auto-correlation function coefficients with the predetermined values; and (col 2, lines 11-30).

determining whether the microphone is not properly connected to the real-time audio communication system based on the comparison of the values of the auto-correlation function coefficients with the predetermined values. (col 2, lines 11-30)

Art Unit: 2155

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to incorporate the teachings of Kim into those of Itakura to make the system more efficient. It is extremely beneficial to check whether or not the microphone is connected before wasting resources in analyzing the audio sample just to find out the microphone is disconnected.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
